Giving Back

I've decided that, beginning with my 2009 weddings, to donate 10% of my Celebrant fee to an organization of the couple's choosing, in their name. I think it's a great way to honor your wedding, as well as give back to these fabulous local organizations that need our support.

I've chosen these five organizations, though would be willing to donate to any worthy organization of the couple's choice. I think this is a great way to give back, especially in these tough times, when organizations like these are especially needed – especially on the local level.
